Senator McAdoo Trails Downey In California

Backers Still Hopeful That Lead Might Be Overcome Early Today

M'ADOO CARRIED ROOSEVELT BLESSING

Apparent Victor In Democratic Primary Advocate Of Novel Pension Plan

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—U. S. Sen. William G. McAdoo, who carried the blessing of President Roosevelt into California's primary Tuesday, today trailed his opponent for the senatorial nomination but his backers still held hopes of victory.

His opponent, Sheridan Downey, San Francisco attorney and pension plan advocate, held nearly a 50,000 lead in early returns from southern California, but Sen. McAdoo cut into that figure as ballots from other sections of the state were counted.

With 5,360 of the state's 12,438 precincts tabulated, Downey had 137,891 votes, Sen. McAdoo 106,374.

Returns from 6,001 of the state's 12,438 precincts gave Downey 152,987; Sen. McAdoo 119,401.

Advocates for California's widely advertised "53c-a-day-Thursday" pension proposal were jubilant as it appeared in early returns that Downey carried.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—"Keep cool—things aren't as bad as they seem," this was Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy's encouraging message to America today in an exclusive trans-Atlantic telephone chat with the Boston Evening American.

"The thing to do here and in the United States is not to lose our heads," the United States Ambassador stated when reached after returning from a mid-morning conference with Lord Halifax, British foreign secretary.

"I have just this moment returned to the embassy from a talk with Lord Halifax," Ambassador Kennedy said.

Prepare To Widen Perry Highway In Portersville Borough

Impetus was given the proposed road widening project through Portersville at a conference of state highway, Butler county and Portersville borough authorities held at Butler, Monday.

Agreement was reached between the state highway, borough and county on August 13 last relative to damages. The county commissioners agreed to go along to the extent of $18,000 toward damages resulting.

At the same time the state agreed to go along to the extent of $8,500 toward damages in the borough and borough officials pledged themselves to raise the rest between $8,000 and $10,000 for the paying of damages to abutting property owners.

Certain papers embracing the agreements reached had to be signed by all parties concerned, and this was done at the conference, which was followed by a special meeting of the Portersville borough council, when they passed the necessary resolutions relieving the last barrier to the actual advertising for bids.

The highway department will proceed at once to advertise for bids, according to the state highway authorities attending the conference, and after the contract has been let, the borough of Portersville will then advertise for bids for removing twenty-one buildings on the north side of the thoroughfare through the borough.

It is estimated the cost of moving the buildings will be somewhere around $10,000 to $20,000.

Plans for widening the highway.

PA NEW OBSERVES

C. M. Hunt, Butler road, says he got the thrill of his life Monday evening as he soared over New Castle in an airplane. He had often seen others in the skies, but he never knew how it felt until he boarded the Taylor Cub at the airport and started heavenward. Looking down upon New Castle was so different, he says, from seeing the city in an automobile. Spread out in panorama, far beneath him were green trees intermingled with houses, streets criss-crossed like a checker board, and the beautiful Shenango and Neshannock winding their ways, like a silver thread through it all. "Everybody should see New Castle from the skies," says Hunt.

With the advent of September, the moving season is on hand again. Pa News observed a number of moving vans backed up to front doors this morning, transferring the household goods of local residents to other locations.

Burden Of Peace Put Up To Hitler By Great Britain

British Ambassador Flies To Berlin With New Cooperation Plea

Sudeten Likely To Secure Satisfactory Settlement If Hitler Wills It

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The burden of preserving peace in Europe was virtually dumped in the lap of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler today as Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, flew to Berlin with a new plea for cooperation in the grave Sudeten autonomy crisis.

With receipt of direct word from Prague that Czechoslovakia is convinced Nazi Germany will march if the Sudeten demands are not satisfied by September 15, Great Britain swung to the view that peace or war depends upon the Fuehrer alone.

Confer With Hitler
The Sudeteners themselves, International News Service learned, have asked for a period of grace until Friday before replying to the Czech government's latest proposals. In the interim, they will confer with Hitler and it is he who will decide the issue of peace or war.

The view prevails in British quarters that Friday will be the crucial day. It was believed here the (Continued On Page Two)

Mayor Takes Action To Safeguard School Children On Streets

NO LENIENCY FOR ERRING AUTOISTS

School resumes next Wednesday and in an effort to safeguard children from being injured or killed by speeding automobiles Mayor Charles E. McGrath today ordered police to arrest reckless operators.

He said that if the present equipment used by police is not sufficient to stop speeding, he will purchase additional equipment.

During recent weeks there has been an outburst of speeding and reckless operation of cars in different sections of the city.

Today police were assigned to cruiser cars and commenced watching for autoists who violate the traffic regulations.

One of the cars was sent to the North Hill section where it has been said speeding has been most prevalent.

The mayor made it plain that any person arrested for speeding cannot anticipate leniency.

Local Motorists Make Many Tours

Inquiries For Routes And Other Information Heaviest In Years At Motor Club

Apparently local motorists have all been seized with the same idea during the past week, namely, to take a trip somewhere, if inquiries answered by the New Castle Motor club may be taken as any indication.

According to Secretary B. N. Hanlon of the local club, more inquiries have been received relative to routes, and road information than at any other like period in the past six years.

Many folks who have put off taking that vacation trip, are wanting to get it done before Labor Day and the start of the school term, where there are children. Others who have not had the opportunity to get away before are on the go now.

It would be wise to be more carefully Secretary Hanlon states, with this increased amount of traffic on the highways and to use extra precaution with your driving.

British Ambassador Carries New Request For Moderation In Czech Crisis

PRAGUE, Aug. 31.—Negotiations for peaceful solution of the explosive Sudeten issue proceeded without a pause today, confirming that Konrad Henlein has not yet rejected the latest government proposals although even an eventual veto is generally anticipated.

The council of ministers remained in permanent session to consider the problem, while Premier Milan Hodza was given a complete review of the situation. It was understood the Henleinists consider the government plan for canalization of the country as falling short of a "definite solution."

The fact there has been no actual rejection as yet, however, at least left the door open to further negotiations. Full contents of the government's proposal, it was learned, have not yet been handed over to the Sudeteners.

May Resort To Force In September

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Czechoslovakia has informed Britain that she expects Germany to resort to force shortly after Sept. 15 if a settlement satisfying the autonomy demands of the Sudeten Germans has not been reached beforehand.

International News Service learned exclusively today that Czechoslovak Premier Milan Holza informed Basil Cochrane Newton, British minister to Prague, that this belief is based on information obtained by Czechoslovakian secret agents.

Belief that the British government had received new and sensational news was supported when United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy called on British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax early this morning.

Officials of the American embassy claimed that Kennedy was merely obtaining further information regarding developments in the Nazi-Czech crisis, and that his appointment with Lord Halifax was arranged yesterday, when he was informed of developments by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Sen. Smith was leading his Roosevelt-endorsed opponent, Gov. John D. Johnston, by more than 25,000 votes in the balloting which had attracted nationwide attention because of the new deal issue.

With only 97 precincts of 1,508 yet to report, the unofficial count stood: Smith 165,290; Johnston 134,462.

Japanese Say "No Third Power Was Involved, Plane Was Owned By China"

TOKYO, Aug. 31.—Japan today rejected an American protest over a Nipponese aerial attack on a Chinese National Aviation Corp. air liner in which 14 passengers were reported killed.

Action of the Japanese planes was "not unwarranted in the light of the circumstances," it was said. No third power was involved; the Japanese government holds, as the airplane was owned by China.

Many "discrepancies" have been found in the story told by Chester Woods, the American pilot, it was said. Official Japanese investigations have shown justification for the Nipponese attack, it was stated. Japan has flatly denied Woods' charge the plane and its occupants were machine-gunned by Japanese craft.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—Completing his inspection tour of western German fortifications, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler returned to his Bavarian mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden today as the British ambassador sped to Berlin with a message warning him of the consequences of armed action in Czechoslovakia.

Decision of the fuehrer to return to the capital meant the dash of British hopes for a personal meeting between him and Sir Neville Henderson, the envoy now on his way here with Britain's newest diplomatic approach in behalf of peace.

In Seclusion.
Henderson will be received by Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, who cancelled a scheduled attendance at the Stuttgart congress of Germans living abroad to hear Britain's message and report upon it to Hitler.

Patriotic by his minute investigation of the German fortifications along the entire Swiss and German borders, Hitler went into complete seclusion and will receive only a few important visitors before he starts work on the speeches to be delivered at the Nazi party congress in Nuremberg next week.

These will include Von Ribbentrop and Baron Konstantin von Emmerich, president of the council of ministers. Informal quarters were extremely doubtful that Henderson's message, as transmitted by Von Ribbentrop, will alter the events of the Nuremberg congress.

CONVICTS GIVE TESTIMONY IN PRISON HORROR

overshadowed interest in expectation that "drastic action" toward those responsible for the four men's deaths would follow the inquest.

One dying convict attempted to kill himself by butting his head against the hot concrete wall of the isolation cell when the heat reached its greatest temperature a week ago Sunday night, according to the testimony.

Another, driven stark mad by heat and thirst, begged to be shot.

Others, exhausted by temperatures estimated as high as 200 degrees, called out incoherently for wives and mothers or broke into prayer.

Guards came and went during the two days and three nights that the men were imprisoned in the "Black Hole of Calcutta," ignored pleas for physicians and Superintendent William B. Mills callously told the convicts: "You've gone through worse than this."

Two Guards Held

Those were highlights of the testimony of the convicts, Patrick Di Marco, Morris Spatz and Joseph Forte at a hearing in which two Holmesburg guards were held without bail for homicide to await action by the coroner. The guards, Francis Smith, 38, and Alfred W. Brough, 43, arrested early last week, "turned on the heat" the witnesses agreed.

Di Marco, the star witness against the guards, testified that he had served four years at Holmesburg and still had 21 months to go. Describing his incarceration in the "Klondike" more than three days before the bodies of the four dead were found there, Di Marco painted a graphic picture of conditions Sunday night—the last and fatal evening in the torture cells.

Under questioning by Assistant District Attorney John A. Boyle, Di Marco said Brough once turned off the heat Sunday afternoon but that Smith turned it on again when Brough left.

"What were the conditions from Sunday noon until evening?" Boyle asked.

"They were worse than the previous night; everyone was suffering and hollering for water," he could not breathe for a few boys were calling for their mothers and their wives. They hollered in the hope that someone would hear them. Conditions were terrible. I don't know why many more of us didn't die from the heat. Later on that night one fellow yelled that he wanted somebody to shoot him; that if they wanted to kill him, to get it over fast and not let him suffer."

Got Hotter And Hotter

"At 3:30 Captain McGuire (captain of the prison guards) came into the Klondike. He ordered the heat turned off and the windows opened. They gave us air for 10 minutes. Then Captain McGuire went out and the guards came back and shut the windows."

"Then the heat was turned on in the building all Sunday night?"

"Yes."

"What happened from 5:30 on?"

"It kept getting hotter and hotter. All the time we heard the hissing. It was broken at intervals of about three minutes. Stanley Martin (a prisoner) wanted to commit suicide. He ran against the wall, butting his head, and then he tried to choke himself. Eddie Hayes (Frank Concedo, one of the convicted victims) was crying for his mother and said he was going to die."

"Was there any commotion during the night?"

"Not all night. The boys were too weak. Towards morning it had quieted down. Soon after daylight Forte hollered out loud. We told him to feel their bodies and he said they were already cold and that they were not breathing. We told him to leave them alone till the guards came around and maybe they could bring them to."

"Did you have any water during the night?"

"Only the water in the hopper. At first we scooped it up in our hands. As the water began to recede we took the water, dipped them in and squeezed the water into our mouths."

Di Marco then related how the bodies of the four victims were discovered the following (Monday) morning, and declared that Dr. Frederick Baldi, the prison physician ordered the doors of the cells opened and the men taken from the "sweat box." Four, he said, were so desperately ill they needed hospitalization.

SOUTH CAROLINA VOTERS RE-NAME SENATOR SMITH

out a victor despite the fact the president frowned on his candidacy. President Roosevelt, while not mentioning Sen. Smith by name, alluded to him as a man "who had referred to him as a man 'who thinks in terms of the past and governs his actions accordingly.'"

The president also had praised Gov. Johnston, describing Sen. Smith's opponent as a man who "thinks in terms of 1938, and 1948 and 1958 as well."

Sen. Smith was undaunted, called Gov. Johnston a "rider" on the president's "coat tails," and said in a statement that South Carolina voters would not permit "forces from without" the state to pick their senator.

Even in the textile districts, where Gov. Johnston, a former textile weaver, had expected his major strength, victory went to Smith. In Greenville, for instance, Smith led by three to two.

Johnston, however, held a lead in Spartanburg county, where he is a legal resident, and in Anderson county, his boyhood home.

In a midnight radio statement, the senator said:

"I congratulate the people of South Carolina on reaffirming their allegiance and loyalty to real democracy. I am grateful for the opportunity to stand in the lead for principles for which confederate veterans holding their reunion here went through their awful struggle during the war between the states."

Gov. Johnston would give no statement.

By the time a milkman gets through paying the different licenses and showing inspectors through his plants, he is usually too tired to milk a cow. This was the comment of a well known dairyman while discussing the milk problem with Pa News.

There is a state inspector, who is followed by a barn inspector, on whose heels comes the city inspector, and then comes the boiler inspector, and to top it all off, there is a general inspector who sees that the other inspectors have not been loading on the job. In the way of licenses the dairyman must have a milk control board, city health department, state health department, and the Department of Agriculture. However, folks who use milk don't care how the dairyman is milked just so he sells clean milk.

If you would show your fellow townsmen say, "Oh, and Ah, what a pretty lawn," when they pass your wiggam next summer, the time to sow the seeds of enthusiasm in your grassy spots is at hand. The gardeners who figure out things by the square foot say that you should sprinkle eighty pounds of lime over each 1000 square feet in the fall. If the lawn is anemic and don't seem to care a hang whether it lives or dies, give it fifteen pounds of cottonseed meal, and about the same amount of fertilizer. Then sow your grass seed and hope for the best.

Pa News heard a man say last night that he had roasting ears for supper. To our untutored mind the remark was very indefinite. What did he mean? Did he imply that roasting ears were his entire meal, or did he have roasting ears for dessert?

This brings us to the question of what is a meal of roasting ears? How many can you eat? How does your capacity compare with that of your neighbor? Do you sit on a stump and nibble a nubbin at a corn roast, or do you devour big ears with tuneful zest. It would be interesting to know who is the champion corn eater of New Castle. Send in your records.

Maybe our local merchants wouldn't have so much trouble with shoplifters if we followed the Bulgarian practice. Over there when a person is convicted of shoplifting his ears are painted red with indelible ink. There ought to be some way here to mark these petty snafu thieves.

Alexander Francescone of the Butler road, near Weingarten's, brought a basket of tomatoes to the office of The News Tuesday, which were real giants filled a peck basket, the largest weighing two pounds and the smallest weighing one pound.

According to local folks who have been vacationing in Canada and the northern part of the United States, those districts have been swept by some terrific storms recently.

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Sylling, ran into a storm in Michigan, and the water came up to the running board of his car along the highway, the worst storm natives stated, that had occurred in the district in years.

County Vocational Director E. C. Wiggins, stated that it stormed almost every night in the section of Ontario, where they were encamped, and the winds whipped the lakes with high waves, making fishing almost impossible.

Still the spirit of parades goes on. At intervals, for the most part Tuesday, a group of boys and girls paraded along West avenue, Huron avenue, Superior street, and Allen street. Purple and white colors predominated. The floats were carried, "music" was made by horns, drums and saucpan lid cymbals, also a clown and floats. Among the paraders were Elaine and David Rowe, Tommy Evans, Walter Harper, Delores Ottaviano, Elsie Jane Campbell, Henry Kersey and Sonny Montico.

JAILER CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE IN PRISONER'S DEATH

(International News Service)

PARIS.—The director of the Paris prison de la Sante has been charged with homicide through negligence following the death of a prisoner from rat bites received while held in a cell for a crime of which he was innocent.

Rene Lequoc, young railroad worker, was arrested last month as he wandered about the streets suffering from a nervous disorder and charged with robbery.

After several weeks in jail subsequent police investigation showed him to be innocent and an acquittal was granted by the police judge. But four days before Rene Lequoc had died in the prison infirmary from poisoning. The jail physician reported that the prisoner died from the bite of a rat and now his mother is charging the warden with homicide through negligence.

The case may lead to a thorough investigation of prison conditions.

SENATOR M'ADOO TRAILS DOWN IN CALIFORNIA

ney had sprung an upset of national significance. Downey is a leader in the novel pension movement.

McAdoo was favorite

McAdoo, a former secretary of treasury, had entered the primary as a 3-to-1 favorite, due principally to the personal support given him by President Roosevelt.

The president had urged McAdoo to seek renomination, writing his celebrated "Dear Mac" letter to the veteran campaigner who will soon observe his 75th birthday.

Later, when it appeared that McAdoo faced a tough fight, the president came to California and publicly urged that McAdoo be returned to Washington.

Other "blessings" for McAdoo followed after the president returned to Hyde Park. When it was learned that Downey was making a hit with the pension group, Mr. Roosevelt issued a statement against the unpopular proposal, terming it a "Short-cut to Utopia."

Republican Nominees

Carrier of the Republican banner in the November fight for the senate seat appeared to be Philip Bancroft, a farmer from Walnut Creek, who made his political debut in yesterday's primary.

Bancroft held a comfortable lead over Ray L. Riley, a veteran G. O. P. leader.

Governor Frank P. Merriam, Republican, will oppose Culbert C. Olson, a Democratic state senator from Los Angeles, in the November gubernatorial race.

Victories of both Merriam and Olson had been expected, as both had been pegged as 3-to-1 favorites. Merriam, an old-time politician, figure in Iowa before he moved to Long Beach, Cal., was the first California governor to be renominated in nearly a quarter of a century.

No Comment On McAdoo

Concerning the apparent defeat of Senator William. Gibbs McAdoo in California, for whom Mr. Roosevelt did more political campaigning than for any other candidate in this year's primaries, there was no comment. The result in California was not considered final enough to warrant comment, although McAdoo is trailing far behind Sheridan Downey, the old age pension enthusiast.

Mr. Roosevelt's comment on the South Carolina outcome was handed to newspapermen by one of his secretaries, Stephen Early.

At his press conference yesterday, the president said he already had his comment prepared on South Carolina, in respect of whether Smith or his opponent, Gov. Olin D. Johnston, was nominated.

When the presidential secretariat visited the president's bedroom today for the usual morning conference, Mr. Roosevelt opened a drawer of a desk and took therefrom a sealed envelope. He broke the seal, extracted the above quoted sentence, which would have been applicable in the case of either a Smith or a Johnston victory.

"It is often true that it takes a long, long time to bring the past up to the present."

The president also observed, Early said, that he privately had conceded Smith's renomination by 40,000 votes, instead of the approximately 25,000 by which he won.

BURDEN OF PEACE PUT UP TO HITLER

BY GREAT BRITAIN

Sudeten can obtain a satisfactory settlement from the Czechs if Hitler wants to permit it. Everything depends upon the Fuehrer. Britain believes, and there is some concern over the fact he has gone into virtual seclusion at Berchtesgaden.

There, in his picturesque Bavarian mountain retreat, he is seeing no one but his closest advisers. It is feared that therefore he may be deprived of learning full details of the extreme anxiety prevailing abroad, just as former Kaiser Wilhelm was kept in ignorance by the Court Camarilla of growing foreign opposition to German imperialism before the World War.

Think Hitler Bluffing

Authoritative quarters incline to the belief or hope that Hitler is bluffing and that he will eventually advise the Sudeteners to accept the best they can get. The majority of Nazi leaders close to him, however, especially Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Hermann Goering and Goebbels, are in a word from the Fuehrer, favor armed action, according to the British view.

The army high command itself is exercising an important and moderating influence. It is believed, although a large number of younger officers are ready and eager to march on a word from the Fuehrer, Britain remains convinced that France will march also if Czechoslovakia is invaded, although the government of Premier Edouard Daladier is known to be spiritually reluctant to take such a drastic step. If France is involved, Britain gravely fears she herself will be drawn in.

As often stated before, British officials feel that the next three weeks will be critical ones. If the formidable hurdles now presenting themselves can be cleared without disaster, the path for peace may again be opened.

ANNUAL CORN ROAST FOR FIRST CHURCH

Approximately 250 attended the elaborate corn roast which took place at Cascade Park on Tuesday evening for the congregation and Bible school of the First Presbyterian church. This is an annual affair. The feast got underway at 6:30 o'clock, and following an interesting sports program was carried out. Roscoe Kirkpatrick was declared the champion horseshoe pitcher of the evening.

A feature of the evening, which caused much hilarity, was the gathering of the collection by David Long and Russell Melvin who had to perform this task with their hands tied behind their backs.

Much credit for the huge success of the affair goes to Harry Gibson, general chairman of the event, Mont McGill, who had charge of the corn roast, and the sports committee composed of Paul Perry and Gilbert Long.

BOOHER-CRAIG WEDDING TUESDAY

Savannah M. E. church was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony on Tuesday evening, when Miss Helen Booher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booher of Savannah, became the bride of Jack Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craig of the Elwood-New Castle road. In the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

The vows were pledged amidst a decorative setting, the altar being embellished with garden flowers in many hues, against a background of ferns and green foliage.

The Rev. V. L. Bloomquist of Pleasantville, Pa. former pastor of the Savannah church, officiated, with the impressive single ring service, with Rev. R. H. Eckert, present pastor of Savannah church, assisting.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Margaret Cowmeadow of this vicinity, pianist, contributed a program of appropriate selections. In announcing the approach of the bride party she rendered the "Wedding March from Lohengrin."

Entering on the arm of her father, J. H. Booher, who gave her in marriage, the bride was lovely in a white lace creation, made princess style, with a Queen Elizabeth collar and toe length skirt. Her veil of tulle was of finger-tip length, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Norman Guy of Elwood City, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and she was gowned in peach taffeta, floor length, with complementary accessories. Her arm bouquet harmonized.

Charles Craig, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushering were Norman Guy, brother-in-law of the bride, and Marion Yoho, cousin of the groom.

Mrs. Craig is a graduate of Shenango high school and of the Jameson Memorial hospital nurses training school, and is engaged in private duty work. Mr. Craig is also a graduate of Shenango high, and he is now engaged in business in New Castle with his father.

The rehearsal dinner took place Monday evening at a prominent tea room. Covers marked for 17 guests, including the bride party and members of their immediate families. The nuptial motif was used throughout in the appointments, and the traditional wedding cake was prominently placed.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Craig departed on a motor trip, and after September 5 will be "at home" in their newly furnished residence at Highland Heights.

For traveling the bride chose a black and white ensemble with black accessories.

A large collection of wedding and shower gifts received by the young couple were displayed at the home of the bride's parents.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SOME STANDARD COLLEGE EQUIPMENT

The student planning to enter college should be provided, among other things, with a fountain pen, typewriter, student's lamp and dictionary (if possible, an unabridged edition). Practically any student who has enough money to go to college has enough for such essential equipment. If necessary, he can afford to economize in some other directions.

A typewriter is almost as essential as a fountain pen. Many papers have to be prepared out of class at college. When they are typed they usually are rated higher than when in script. Indeed, some professors won't read such papers in handwriting.

Relatively few dormitories, fraternities, sororities or private rooms provide adequate light for good study. Health, eye-sight and learning efficiency are impaired by poor light. Even though there are proper light fixtures, the candlepower of the bulb generally is too low. It should be about 100-watt.

And now is a good time for the college student to have his eyes checked and glasses fitted in case glasses are needed. Any youth looking forward to college also should take advantage of the summer to have necessary dental work done. A once-over by the family physician might be advisable, too.

Typewriter for High School Students

The typewriter is a good investment for the high school student, even for many a student in the grades. Young children can be helped in reading and spelling if induced to use the typewriter at home. On it the child entering school can, at play, learn the alphabet. Very soon he can learn to spell out simple words on it or type words and sentences as his parents spell for him.

The young child with a good imagination likes to dictate his own story and have an older person take it down. Then he enjoys reading his own story. Such procedure is excellent with the child above second grade.

Among the best aids for reading, above the first grade, are magazines for children. There are now several very good ones for children of the elementary grades. Because the magazine is so different from the book, and has so many interesting things to make and do, the child using it learns to read for fun.

Then there are numerous good magazines which appeal to the child of the upper grades and high school. They are of special value to those who read slowly—and how many of the higher levels? The reason so many children fail in history, English or science is because they are so poor readers. Why not provide means at home for helping these children to get along better at school?

STREET NAMES

Paris has the Street of the Fishing Cat, the Street of Bad Boys and the Street of Little Pepples.

At Besancon, in the Jura Mountains, a square bears the name of Bacon. At Epinal, in the Vosges region, is the Allee of Vain Effort, while in Toulouse there is a thoroughfare known as Jealousy Street. Another has the unusual appellation of Street of Watch Your Step; still others, the Street of the Four Billiards, the Street of the Three Banquets, and finally the Street of The Thirteen Winds.

In another part of France, in Beauvais, famed for its cathedral, is the Street of the Salt Attic and the Street of Glim Without Regret. In Strasbourg is a street with a smelly name, at least for it is known as Garlic Street; there is also a Square of the Milk-Fed Pig.

FARM STORY

Sometimes the family jokes and stories become boring with constant repetition, but while H. B. Potts of Exeville, Ohio, may feel like using the ax whenever he hears these two tales, there are other people who may be amused by them.

Uncle Jim Rodey used to laugh and tell about his young Durham bull killing himself. It seems the animal got peeved at something one day and in hooking the ground gouged out a sizable bumblebee's nest.

Of course, these insects have no temper on both ends and immediately went to work on the bull. The latter soon realized he was outnumbered, and started a strategic retreat around a large haystack. With the bees still busy at their task of teaching him repentance for his folly, the bull galloped faster and faster until finally he so gained on himself that the brush of his extended tail got into his eyes and blinded him, causing him to step on his hind hoofs with his front ones, trip himself and break his neck.

Then Uncle Jim would tell about painting their big farmhouse down in Noble county with that wonderful fireproof paint he invented. Some weeks after he had given the house two coats, the family returned from town one day to find that the building had burned to the ground. But all except Uncle Jim were amazed to see the paint which previously had covered it still standing. Hundreds of sightseers came that summer to see the wonderful sight, and enough admission fees were taken in to build Uncle Jim a new house a few hundred yards away. Unfortunately he was unable to take in enough money to furnish the new house because in September a cyclone came through that region and blew the "paint" house down.

The Housing Administration wants to know whether a kitchen may be properly called a room. Call it anything you like, fellows, but for gosh sakes, don't eliminate it!

What's What At A Glance

Senator Sheppard Wins Tribute
Is Commended For His Fairness
Is Arbiter Of Election Disputes

By CHARLES P. STEWARD
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas is so well known as father of the since-repealed eighteenth amendment to the constitution that it is difficult to advertise him as anything else.

However, the Lone Star statesman has been coming into a good bit of highly creditable prominence lately as referee of this year's fighting over senatorial primaries and elections throughout the land.

A committee to "see fair" in these contests is chosen in advance of each campaign, and Sheppard was picked as chairman of 1938's body of observers. He has fellow members, but the chairman always is the main thing.

PRIMARY CHARGES

Generally one of these campaign investigating committees has nothing much to investigate. Occasionally one of them has a single case to probe. Never hitherto has a committee seemed likely to have a multiplicity of contests on its hands.

Moreover, in the past, where charges of election-day crookedness have been made, they have been made by a Democrat against a Republican, or by a Republican against a Democrat. This time the charges promise to be made as a primary issue—not on an inter-party basis, but as between Democrats and Democrats.

It is not so very painful for a Democratic investigating committee to decide against a Republican, or for a Republican committee to decide against a Democrat. But for a Democratic committee, like Senator Sheppard's, to decide between two opposing Democrats—that is a hurt.

IN TENNESSEE

The latter is the situation which Senator Sheppard's committee is up against.

For example: Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, one of Senator Sheppard's committee associates, speaks of "rusty politics." The matter, which would be all O. K. if Walsh meant Republican gutter politics against Democrats, but he means Democratic gutter politics against other Democrats.

And there are hints of more of these intra-Democratic accusations elsewhere.

TOLERANT

Now, Senator Sheppard shows extraordinary qualities of tolerance and diplomacy in this situation. Considering how hard-headed he was on the subject of prohibition one wouldn't have expected it. He's a New Dealer. Being as prohibitionistic as he was, I'd have supposed he would have been as New Dealerish to the same uncompromising degree.

He isn't. He listens to both sides.

AND HE'S FAIR

Sheppard is quite a remarkable man. For one thing, he's the oldest senator in point of service, but he was a representative long before he was a senator. Put his representative and senatorial records together, and he holds the record.

He isn't so exceedingly old—63. But he isn't presidential material; his prohibition history forecloses that. And he isn't of presidential caliber anyway.

But the point is that, at this juncture, he's rated on all sides as fair.

I think it's a remarkable tribute to the old lawmaker.

Regardless of his prohibition past!

Yum-yum item: If your postage stamps taste sweet when you lick them nowadays, it's because the government is experimenting with mullage made from our bumper crop of sweet potatoes, whose sticking qualities are also better than the cassava root glue that Uncle Sam has been using for years.

Rebuke: Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan bawled out (ever so gently, of course) two newspaper publishers of that state for addressing him as "Your Excellency." Said the Governor, "In a democracy such as ours, the highest designation to which anyone is entitled is 'Mister.' (O. K., Mr. Murphy). Big-heartsed though you may be, your lungs still weigh four times as much as your ticker."

Erstwhile again: Faulty steel used in the rails and equipment of German railroads have in the past year caused a sharp increase in collisions and derailments in Nazi-land. (But don't let Herr Goebbels know we told you.) And as for railway injuries and fatalities on Der Fuehrer's rolling stock, they have more than tripled. Today's favorite gag: Smith, who had lost his aunt, seemed so dejected that a friend, aware of his true situation, asked, "What do you care, anyway? You never cared much for the old lady." Said Smith, "I know I didn't. But for years I had her kept in a private sanatorium. Now she's left me all her money and I've got to prove she was of sound mind."

Leafy Methuselahs: The oldest living things on earth are believed to be the macrozonia trees found in the Tambourine Mountains of Australia. These aged, estimated to be more than 12,000 years old, makes those California sequoias look like mere infants. A long-range planner is Frank Hague, boss of Jersey City, who figures he'll be elected Mayor for three more terms and then retire in 1955. . . . When retail prices in the U. S. are considered in relation to wages, the figures show that groceries are now costing the consumer 18 percent less than in 1929.

When something went wrong with the capital "O" on the check-writing machine of the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Board, the result was that checks were distributed bearing such names as O'Brien, O'Brown, O'Frothingham, O'Shultz and O'Smith. (Welcome, brothers!). The matter, from which comes our so highly prized by milady, is built along the lines of a dachshund and has a pelt the color of red fox. And for its size, the marten is one of the most blood-thirsty of all animals. . . . Bon mot snipped from somewhere: "The proof of good citizenship is to vote for a man you don't like when his opponent isn't fit for the job." . . . A coffee concern, running one of these radio ads, in which you have to send in a box top, was recently stunned when one contestant did even better than that. To enter the contest, he sent in a one-pound can of coffee, unopened.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Well into his middle years, Al Adams was a brakeman on the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad. He was a hard-working, ambitious New Englander rearing his family in a neat little house by a Connecticut roadside, paying his debts, shaving down the mortgage and going to church occasionally. Then, when his hair was graying around the edges, fate gave him the highball for a new destiny, when he raced the red-eye of his New England conscience. It was a dizzy run but it ended with prison, ruin and a pistol shot.

When he wasn't working his lantern and his flags, Adams was a kibitzer at the poker game in the smoking car, watching sleek, prosperous citizens rake in easy coin or jovially toss it away. Mopey seemed to come easy in the big town. The rails began to click a bright new idea. One night his wife waited late at the gate in the privet hedge. Al Adams didn't come home.

So began the gambling career of New York's first notorious policy king, nearly 50 years ago, regardless of Thomas E. Dewey's possibly inadvertent remark that policy has been known in this city for only 20 years. One night in the fall of 1889, Adams walked out of the train-shed in New York and went to a lodging house. He had decided to pick up some of this money that lay loose around the streets of the metropolis.

For months, he explored the town, read the newspapers, studied racing forms at Morris Park and Jerome Park, looked in on stuss games, portended them deeply, made notes and finally drifted down to the Bowery, and one day became interested in a shabby little stall, with a fly-specked lomonade counter in front and some mysterious goings-on in the rear. He returned the next day and the next.

It was the primitive numbers game, widely known in later years, but essentially the same. According to legend, it had been imported from St. Louis where it had been played principally by the waterfront rousters. This was what Adams had been looking for. In his cagey, methodical New England way, he studied the system diligently, and doubtless discovered that the odds against the player were about 1,200-to-one in most plays.

Presently Adams had a sleazy little hide-out of his own, geared into a network of similar traps for the

Mail Rooms At Postoffice Are Being Cleaned

Walls And Ceilings Being Cleaned By Crew Of Workmen In Postoffice

Dirt and grime from hundreds of cities about the country gathered from railroad station platforms, from mail trucks and from baggage cars, is this week being cleaned from the walls and ceilings in the first and second floor workrooms of the post office building.

The dirt is heavy on a wall and requires a special cleaning mixture to remove it. A crew of workmen, working on scaffolding, is doing a fine job at the building. It is expected that it will require a month to complete the gigantic cleaning task.

Most of the dirt has accumulated from the mail sacks that are brought into the building. After being dragged over station platforms, thrown in baggage cars and mail trucks, the sacks are received at the post office here.

The mailmen immediately turn the sack upside down and empty the mail, throwing the sack in a corner. These transactions knock a good bit of dust and dirt from each sack and it gets into the air and settles on the walls and ceilings.

This is the first cleaning that the mailrooms have received since the new building was opened five years ago.

Republicans To Hear James Speak At Grange Picnic

Republican Forces In Central Pennsylvania "Go Back To Soil" Today

By J. WILLIAM THEIS International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—Pennsylvania's G. O. P. candidates and campaign strategists were "back to the soil" today for some judiciously timed shaking of the hard hat turns the plough and incidentally holds an important gubernatorial vote.

A series of county grange picnics, traditionally Republican in any expression, will be climaxed tomorrow by a giant G. O. P. rally at Williams Grove Park, Cumberland county.

Twenty-three counties will be represented, and state Republican spokesmen predict the old-fashioned outing will draw more than 40,000 persons.

The rally is being held in conjunction with the 68th annual grange picnic.

Seemingly more so than before in recent years, both parties have taken their politics "out doors." The Williams Grove affair comes on the heels of Saturday's Democratic rally at nearby Hershey, estimated at having attracted more than 75,000 supporters of the Erie-Jones ticket.

In other central Pennsylvania counties, grange political day outings were being held today with Superior Court Judge Arthur H. James, Republican candidate for governor, and U. S. Sen. James J. Davis, seeking re-election, doing the principal talking.

pennies of the poor. Tall, spare and wary, he out-smarted his associate guerrillas and before a year had passed it was indicated he had found what the rails had been singing about. He sent for his family. All signal blocks were open. He was to gather as much as $3,500,000 a year.

Policy in those days was mostly in mid-town or down-town. Establishing his family and his home, Adams moved up-town, and built a rooco mansion. He took on a hankerish look, in seemly and expensive broad cloth and pepper-and-salt suits; conservatively tailored. He built up a library, not of sets of books, but of carefully selected books which he read diligently. As I remember those days, I am sure it was no newspaper reporter that Adams had a lifetime devotion to Thoreau and that he carried a small copy of "Walden" in his pocket.

He not only dressed the part of a banker, but he became one. He gained a listing on several directories, picked up a profitable sideline of breweries and other enterprises and augmented his policy millions from legitimate business ventures. It was a strange double life, as he conspired in a dinky hide-out with his policy gang, working up and circulating dream books to stimulate buying, and rigging the game more and more ruthlessly against the player, and then, perhaps went to a directors meeting, gesturing with his be-ribboned spectacles, a banker and financier in an atmosphere of pious caution and respectability.

Registration Of Voters To Be Considered

County Commissioners May Designate Places Other
Than The Bureau

PETITIONS BY TWO BOROS PRESENTED

County commissioners expect to determine where voters will be registered in country districts at a meeting today. In at least two of them, Ellport borough and Bessemer borough, petitions have been presented asking for a registration day in the respective boroughs. The Ellport people want it on Friday, September 16, and the Bessemer on Wednesday, September 14. The commissioners have acted favorably on these petitions which were signed by over 100 citizens.

While the registration bureau at the court house is the place where all citizens of the county can register, the registration law makes it optional with the county commissioners as to whether or not they will designate a registration day in the different boroughs and townships. Surrounding counties have decided to hold registration days throughout the county.

It would not be necessary to have registrars at all of the different precincts, as it is believed that if a place were designated in each township and borough it would take care of the situation. There are many people who, for various reasons, cannot get to the court house to register, and they feel that it should be made more convenient for them.

According to Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds, there are probably five or six thousand voters in the county who are not now on the registration books. In view of the importance of the coming campaign it is felt that there should be a full registration. In addition to new registrations, voters would be given an opportunity of changing their addresses, or their party affiliations. To do this at present they must come to the court house.

As for the city of New Castle, the law requires that there be at least two registration days. The hours for registration in the city and such other places as are designated will be from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. and from 7 to 10 p. m.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 38 to 52), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about her fading looks, who feels that her life is passing her by, who is tired of being a "housewife" and who wants to live more fully.

Just get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a reliable "WOMAN'S" tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vitality to enjoy life and assist in getting rid of those annoying changes of life. Pinkham's is WELL WORTH trying.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—Gov. George E. Earle may not appoint a successor to the late Michael Hart, ready as secretary of mines until after the fall campaign, a high Democratic official revealed. Fear of losing a further breach in the already patched up Democratic framework was cited as the principal reason for the decision to hold up the appointment of the $10,000 a year cabinet post.

Appointment of any one of the half dozen candidates mentioned, the official revealed, might bring opposition within Democratic ranks. Democratic chieftains are reported to feel it is essential to November success to heal all wounds growing out of the primary.

Among those mentioned for the post are John B. Gallagher, auditor of the United Mine Workers of America, from Luzerne county; Joseph Walsh, deputy secretary in the department for many years; Patrick F. Martin, Carleton, Pa., deputy secretary for the bituminous area, and James J. Grace, Heckesherville, Schuylkill county, deputy secretary connected with the department's anthracite division.

Opposition to Gallagher was feared from Democrats who opposed Lt. Governor Thomas Kennedy in the Democratic primary, while Walsh was declared a doubtful appointee because of his recent "run-ins" with the United Mine Workers Union. Martin, coming from the western part of the state, might meet opposition from the anthracite mine members, with just the opposite reaction resulting should Grace be appointed.

Democratic leaders have striven consistently since the primary for harmony within the tri-split party and the report was that they would not chance another upheaval so close to the general election.

Whether the same procedure might be followed in the case of the appointment of a secretary of property and supplies was questionable. John Sullivan, head of the Civil Rights bureau, was generally conceded the inside track for the $12,000 job, though John J. Lynam, Philadelphia, acting secretary since the transfer of Colegrove to the Public Utility Commission, J. Warren Mickle, former deputy state treasurer, and Jack Breslin, another state treasury employee, were not definitely counted out of the running.

Charles V. Doyle, executive director of the state board of housing, announced that Pennsylvania is prepared to carry its slum-clearance program into every section of the state in which there is a blighted residential area. "When we clear the way in the larger areas, you may count on our renewing our efforts to be of assistance to every board of county commissioners in the state," he said.

Under housing acts passed during the Earle administration, local housing authorities may be created in every county in the state and in every community of more than 30,000 population. Sixteen units are now operating in Pennsylvania, with ten of the authorities already assured of loans totaling in excess of $48,000,000 from the United States Housing Authority, Doyle revealed.

German Hostility Bad, But Hospitality Good

Nazi Land Giving Tourists
Great Big Hand, Local Teachers Say

Whatever may be said against Germany, its hospitality to tourists is far excellent!

"We found the German people very courteous," says Mrs. Sara McCune, who with Miss Mary E. VanDivert, are home this week after two and a half months in Europe, "and some of our most pleasant days were passed in that country. The Germans are experiencing a shortage of tourists and they are quite concerned about it. They are making every effort to see that their visitors leave with a good impression of the country."

The two local high school teachers visited Cologne, Coblenz and Nuremberg, but not Berlin. "They report seeing children as well as adults wearing swastikas on their arms and the regulation Nazi attire. The little boys wore brown shirts, black ties, and the girls, white blouses and dark skirts.

But soldiers were much in evidence, not only in Germany but in all the countries visited, where they passed four days, was quite evidently passing through a transition period, and struck the women as being quiet and torpid. Its antithesis was Budapest—the gayest place the travelers visited. Italian cities seemed to be extremely busy industrially and with construction work. Miss VanDivert and Mrs. McCune traveled only in the northern part of Italy, and divided most of the time between Milan and Venice.

They had no trouble at all with their passports. The inspectors at the borders seemed not at all interested in baggage but concentrated their attention upon seeing that all money carried by tourists was declared.

Paris was in the midst of a national holiday when the New Castle travelers passed through. They enjoyed a visit in Holland and were very pleased with the three weeks they spent in England and Scotland. They sailed home on the S. S. Froedent Haug and landed in New York last Saturday and then continued on home.

Celebrate 56th Anniversary Of Wedding Day

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Aug. 31.—Fifty-six years of married life, all spent in Grove City, are being celebrated today by Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hawke, at their home on Woodland avenue. It will be a quiet occasion, since Mrs. Hawke has been indisposed for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawke were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cornelius, on the Grove City-Harrisville road, on August 31, 1882. At that time the borough was not yet organized, and was known as Pine Grove.

Mrs. Hawke recalls that only a few families are now represented in Grove City who were here on her wedding day. They include the Marshaws, Pearalls, the Bells, Ruffings and Blacks. Mr. Hawke was a merchant tailor here for 51 years and nine months, retiring in 1928.

One of the first and most important rules for a successful marriage is home ownership, according to Mr. and Mrs. Hawke. They bought their first home as newlyweds, paying John Cochran $75 for a house at Broad and Main. They have owned four homes here, one of which was destroyed by fire.

Only the immediate family joined in the 56th wedding anniversary, due to Mrs. Hawke's illness. They have four sons and a daughter.

THE PRICE OF Liberty

A STERN PRICE was paid for this liberty which you enjoy in America. Your fathers bought it by fighting for it. The price they paid was struggle, hardship, and even blood. The price which you must pay if America is to remain a democracy and if liberty is to be passed on to generations of Americans yet unborn is unremitting watchfulness. You are unable, as an individual, to keep a constant personal watch on the actions and policies of those whom you have elected to govern you. You are unable, as an individual, to reach the ear of government with criticism, approbation, or suggestions for official conduct . . . but, in your newspaper, you have a representative who assumes the responsibility of civic watchfulness for you. You have a voice to which all must listen. No candidate, no official, no political leader can long survive under the constant scrutiny of a free press unless he performs his trust with competence and with honesty. Freedom of the press is your greatest assurance that America shall remain free. The welfare of your newspapers is your welfare and the welfare of American freedom.

This is the second of a series of twelve institutional advertisements sponsored by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association and derived from an address delivered by Dr. William B. Munro, of California Institute of Technology and of Harvard University.

Davis Testifies Hines Received Numbers Money

Says Money Was Paid Fifteen Or Twenty Times In Brief Period

JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Jimmy Hines, boss politician, got "numbers money" some fifteen or twenty times between October 1933 and the end of 1933, it was testified today at Hines' trial on criminal conspiracy charges by J. Richard "Dixie" Davis who is District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's ace witness.

Davis had known Hines only a short time—introduced to him by the late "Dutch" Schultz who was the now-disbarred lawyer's chief client—when he handed him $2,000.

Schultz had told Davis that Hines might be useful to him—that it would be well to "give Hines anything he wanted—anything within reason." And so Davis, hearing that Hines needed money, called on him.

"I told him Leo (Leo Rosenthal) said he needed $2,000 and I told him I had it," Davis related under the expert questioning of Dewey. "He said 'thank you.'"

The "numbers money" that went to Hines was delivered in many places, he testified.

"In my car, in Shalleck's office (Attorney Joseph Shalleck is one of counsel for Hines in the present trial), and in his home—any place where he might be seen."

Court adjourned for luncheon recess after the "numbers money" testimony.

Britain Will Back Warning

Veiled Display Of Force Is Seen In Naval Maneuvers Off Scotland

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Britain's government will back up its warning to Chancellor Hitler to preserve European peace with an impressive but veiled display of naval force, it was learned today.

The British naval maneuvers off Scotland and Scapa Flow will be intensified and more war ships will be added to the naval concentration there.

At their momentous session yesterday, members of the British cabinet discussed plans for extending maneuvers in Scottish waters during which the naval bases at Invergordon and Scapa Flow are to be kept at full strength.

The entire home fleet will take on more real shells than is customary for practice maneuvers and the ships will all be put in top-notch fighting trim.

Meanwhile, other units of Britain's navy have been instructed to keep "handy."

Personal Estate Of Andrew Mellon Was $37,000,000

Appraisal Filed With Register Of Wills In Pittsburgh During Day

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—The late Andrew W. Mellon left a personal estate valued at $37,000,000, according to an appraisal filed by his private financial secretary with the register of wills here today.

The final evaluation fell far short of original estimates, which ranged from $200,000,000 to $500,000,000. The appraisal of his personal property, however, did not include his real estate holdings, which, under the will, go to the A. W. Mellon education and charitable trust.

The personal estate, included: bonds, $8,264,041.33; stocks, $24,489,398.35; miscellaneous notes, accounts receivable, etc., $1,233,748.24; cash, $529,510.17. Chief stock holdings were in the Aluminum Company of America, $161,470; American Rolling Mill Company, $104,737; Coatesed Company, $10,400,000; Gulf Oil, $5,702,000; Melbank Surety, $139,000; National Union Fire Insurance Company, $716,508; Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., $2,205,000; Pullman, Inc., $2,205,000.

The estate included bonds of many counties and cities and various federal bonds.

Before his death the noted financier gave to the trust which bears his name more than $55,000,000 worth of securities and cash, plus an art collection estimated at $50,000,000. He also made large bequests to public projects in Pittsburgh, including the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research and University of Pittsburgh.

At present the Mellon trust is constructing the $14,000,000 National Gallery of Art in Washington as a gift to the nation. The art collection will be displayed there. In addition, $5,000,000 was left to purchase more art treasures.

The final appraisal was made by Arthur Medlock and Howard M. Johnson, the latter Mellon's confidential financial secretary for years.

Mahoning Township Per Capita Tax Is Called In Question

Hearing On Injunction To Prevent Collection Held Before Judge Braham

Suit in equity brought by J. A. Graham, C. H. McClenahan and Harry Googe of Mahoning township against Edward F. Munn, tax collector, and The Sharon Steel Corporation is being heard at court today before Judge W. Walter Braham.

The case is the result of Munn's efforts to collect a per capita tax levied by the Mahoning township school board against the defendants. An injunction is asked, restraining the defendant from collecting the tax, on the ground that the levy was improperly made and unconstitutional.

The Sharon Steel corporation figures in the case by reason of the fact that Graham, McClenahan and Googe were employed by the corporation at its Lowellville, O., plant. Munn, it is alleged, undertook to have the steel corporation deduct the amount of tax from the wages of the plaintiffs. It is claimed that the steel corporation was told that if it did not collect the tax it would have to pay it.

It is claimed by the defendants that Munn was not trying to collect the tax by legal methods, as no notice had been given to the plaintiffs of the tax before it was placed in the hands of the steel company for deduction from wages. It is also alleged that no per capita tax was legally assessed by the school board under the act of April 25th, 1935, for the reason that the taxation was not uniform.

It is contended that it discriminates against persons without taxable assets who have employment, in favor of those without property who have no employment. It is claimed that there is no law in Pennsylvania under which per capita tax can be collected from a person without property or employment, and that therefore the law virtually exempts such persons.

The outcome of the case is being watched by other citizens of Mahoning township, it being in the nature of a test case. The court will hand down an order later.

Estimate Germany Now Has 1,500,000 Troops Mobilized

France-England Delay Mobilizing

One More Appeal To Hitler To Be Made By Diplomatic Means

FRANCE UNITED IN DEFENSE PROGRAM

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Germany's mobilized troops, growing steadily in number for her unprecedented maneuvers, were estimated today to have passed 1,500,000, or more than double the French peace-time standing army, according to a report from the Reich 2,000,000 armed men by October 1.

Under this mighty threat the governments of both France and England, while discussing the possibility of counter-mobilization, in the guise of maneuvers, have decided for the time being to make one more appeal to Hitler by diplomatic means.

France To Aid Czechs
At the same time, France, with part of her forces maneuvering near the German border, remained determined to aid Czechoslovakia in the event of a German invasion.

After hearing a complete report on the crisis from Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet, Premier Edouard Daladier's cabinet voted confidence and approval of the decision to intervene by armed force if Czechoslovakia is attacked. In addition, the cabinet ratified a decree immediately abrogating the 40-hour week in defense industries.

Bonnet also conferred with Ambassador Charles Corbin, who is returning to his London post to aid in keeping Paris and London in constant touch on the Sudeten crisis. Corbin gave Bonnet information regarding the status of Britain's rearmament program for presentation to the French army committee at its meeting today.

Meanwhile, it was evident that the German threat has done something which appeared impossible a few weeks ago. Namely, it has united the French parties of the left and right into a solid front for defense against an external enemy. Jacques Doriot, perhaps the most influential French Fascist leader, and a well known pro-Hitlerite, has ordered his followers to decline the customary invitations to the Nuremberg Nazi party congress, where in former years they have foregathered with their Nazi friends.

River Wall In
Ward FinishedLast Pay Period For WPA
Workmen Brings Completion Of Project Here

With the close of the last WPA pay period, came the completion of the river wall project along the Shenango River, just above the East Cherry street bridge.

A high stone and earth flood wall has been constructed at this point to hold the water within its banks and to stop the swift current from washing out the abutments of the bridge.

There has been a large crew of workmen engaged on this project for over a year. The river bed was dredged and made wider and deeper.

Huge stones were cut from a nearby quarry and hauled to the site, where they were put in place by the workmen. Many thousands of tons of earth were hauled to the wall and used both to support the huge stones and to fill in behind the wall.

At the present time, the wall resembles a huge dike. It is stretched along the Mahoningtown side of the river for about two thousand feet. From the river bed to the top of the wall is approximately 15-feet high. It is wide enough across the top to drive an automobile safely along.

Oddity in the Seventh Ward: At the corner of North Liberty and Cherry streets, there is an old street sign with the wording, "East Washington street", which everyone knows is incorrect.

Many persons drive to the Seventh Ward railroad station at night to watch the new streamlines Diesel trains go by. There are two of these trains nightly, one going east and the other west. One passes about 12:30 and the other at 1:30 o'clock.

Streets in the ward were decorated by workmen Tuesday for the "Sales Mean Jobs" campaign. Banners were strung over the streets, and all of the merchants cooperated by displaying banners in and about their places of business.

Birch Trees In City Affected

It has been called to the attention of Owen Fox, the city forester, that a number of the cut leaf birch trees in various sections of the city are affected by some kind of blight.

This morning Mr. Fox examined several of these trees near the corner of Moody and Highland avenues, and found that they were affected by exanthema, a disease that causes leaves to dry up and die. A known remedy for this disease is to bore small holes in the trunk and insert powdered copper sulphate therein, and also put some of the powder around the trunk, he says. This should be done by expert tree men, as the operation is very dangerous to the life of the tree and should only be put into the tree during the first stages of deterioration, he added. He observed that a number of the trees are beyond the saving point, as from all indications they are infested by a borer that the cut leaf birch cannot resist.

Rotarians Meet

Hear Address By Attorney
Lewis Graham Of Beaver
Monday Evening

Attorney Lewis Graham of Beaver delivered an interesting talk on the Constitution at the weekly meeting of the New Wilmington Rotary club Monday evening.

His address was an absorbing one, revealing the apathy with which the average citizen accepts the constant attacks which are being made on the national institutions of this country.

James Bumgartner was welcomed into the club.

Plans were made to visit the Greenville club on the occasion of their Round-Up, September 7, and the occasion will be welcomed by the club due to the fact that there will be no meeting next week because of Labor Day.

Field Club Ladies Trying For Title

Mahoning Halts West Pittsburgh In Third Game

Rainey Goes To Mound For Mahoning And Gets 5 To 4 Verdict For His Mates

FOURTH GAME IS SET FOR THURSDAY

Mahoning A. A. or rather Mister "Monk" Rainey set the West Pittsburgh team back on their ear-lugs last night at the E. & A. field just when the "Gas House" gang was all ready to pocket the trophy and walk home happy. The score was 5 to 4, and it was as pretty a game as one would care to see. The series now stands West Pittsburgh 2—Mahoning 1.

More than 5,000 fans jammed every available inch of the spacious E. & A. field to watch the series game and to see West Pittsburgh pocket the title in three straight, but it was a very "Rainey" day for the "Gas House" and they will have to wait until Thursday night to try and cop that third victory.

Manager Danny DeGenova with two wins in the old sock, decided to gamble just a bit last night and gave the pitching nod to Dombeck at the start of the game. "Dommy" gave way to Winters before the game was over.

Rainey Whole Show
Besides pitching a whale of a game, giving seven hits and fanning eight men, Rainey busted the old apple for a screaming triple and also poked out a single to help score one of the Mahoning runs. DeMonaco solved Rainey's tricky delivery for a triple. James Marky had two of the West Pittsburgh hits, one of them a double. Dombeck also had a double for the losers.

Most of the scoring was done in the first three innings. West Pittsburgh led 2 to 1 at the end of the first inning and Mahoning tied it up with two in the first of the second. Both teams battled one in the last inning.

Rainey was very effective with the "Gas House" gang on the paths.

Next Game Thursday
The fourth game of the series will be played at 5 o'clock Thursday evening at the E. & A. field. It was announced by Father Schirra, president of the league through his very capable Secretary Michael "Jake" Babovsky.

Gridders Work Hard In Camp, Spirit Is Fine

Thirty-Five Boys At Camp Muddy Creek Falls Seek Places On Varsity Team

FAST BACKFIELD IS INDICATION

Thirty-five eager young New Castle high school football candidates eyeing those eleven open positions on the varsity team this year, are working like Trojans at the Muddy Creek camp. Never has the camp displayed more enthusiasm at camp. They are anxious to make good. Above all they want to please Coach Phil Bridenbaugh.

Backs Limber Up
Yesterday afternoon, Briny took charge of the backfield men along with Assistant Coach Gig Thomas and worked them through a lot of side-swinging tricks using old auto tires and can some of those babies snake-hip it. Joe Gender, Eddie Sowinski, Lindy Lauro and young Roberts, the colored flash looked the best weaving in and out of the tires. Then doing shoulder pads the boys had the very pleasant task of trying to stop Harold "Curley" Stebbins, star Pitt halfback off his feet as he held the blocking and charging dummy. This over the boys took a short rest and started all over again.

Nelson Helps Out
Assistant Coach William "Springs" Klee had a group of linemen charging the dummy and getting away from the line in quick order, cutting out fast. Paul Cuba, former Pitt star was the man the boys were trying to knock off his pins as he held the dummy. Norman "Scoots" Nelson and his something over 200 pounds got back of the dummy a few times and the boys might just as well have tried to shove over the Rock of Gibraltar.

Big "Socks" Rousseau is bigger than ever and looks fit for another good season at tackle on the line. Kulnis is heavier than he was and looks the part of a real lineman. Eric Makinill is hot after a varsity job and looks the part this year.

Charles "Chuck" Fleming also of Pitt, a former New Castle star, was on hand to help out and was riding the "charging runner" as the boys pushed it over the field. A nice hot job if there ever was one.

Willie W. is very noticeable at camp this year and that is the fact that the boys are all willing to work. They realize that there is not much time left before the going sounds for the opening round, and they want to be ready just as much as "Gloomy" Phil does.

Two scrimmage tests were on the schedule for today and for Thursday. The boys are responding to conditioning very nicely. Two days in camp and ready to scrimmage is a fine record and speaks well for the fine manner in which the three coaches have handled the boys.

Plan Numbering Of Hunting Licenses

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—A numbering system similar to that used for motor license tags will be adopted for the 1938 hunting licenses, Secretary of Revenue J. Griffith Boardman announced today.

The change was made to eliminate distribution problems encountered when county names were carried on the tags and to provide a uniform hunting license, it was stated. Approximately 275,000 of the new tags already have been distributed and an additional 400,000 will be sent to local revenue agents by Sept. 1, Boardman said.

Three Brothers To Fight Monday

Sharp Brothers Of Wierton, W. Va., To Show Their Ability

MORAN AND KARICK TO BE ON CALENDAR

When the Jefferson A. C. stages another fist attraction which will be next Monday night the fans will see three brothers fighting three different opponents. They are the Sharp brothers, Billy, Frankie and Bert, all from Wierton, W. Va. Each of them is said to be good.

There have been few families to possess three fighters. The Grays had five, George, Joe, the late Billy, Charlie and "Eggie". The Aitels had three, Abe, Monte and Caesar while the Jeffries had two, Jim and Frank and the Gibbons, Mike and Tom.

There have been other brothers in the ring but the fans will keep their eyes focused on the Sharps when they come here next Monday evening. Matchmaker Tom Leach is now preparing to make them evenly and in addition he will make five other matches.

Last Bout At Park
Included among the five will be Bob Carmichael of Wierton vs. Steve Morgan of Youngstown and Wesley Rodgers of Grove City against Jimmie Jones of Youngstown. Jones was forced to retire when he met Rodgers a few weeks ago on account of a cut eye.

It has been years since a fight was staged here on Labor Day. The last scrap the writer recalls was the Patsy Brannigan-Bernie Hahn battle which started at nine a. m. and finished at 1 a. m. in Cascade Park. Rain and lightning caused light interruptions, hence the holiday.

Due to Monday being a holiday it is anticipated that the crowd will be one of the largest yet to attend a fistie battle here this summer. And with Frankie Moran and Frankie Karick to meet different foes the fans can expect action.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—For more than a month the Pirates, Giants, Cubs and Reds have been putting on an act reminiscent of the siltier antics of Alphonse and Gaston. All of them have been playing as if they were trying to avoid a world series meeting with the murderous Yanks. And, judging by recent performances, it might be a good idea to call in the S. P. C. A. to prevent such a meeting.

The Yanks are winning the American league pennant like the champions they are; the Pirates are looking into the National league's front pew.

The Yanks have been knocking off opposition and are now 15 full games in front of their nearest contenders—the Red Sox. The Pirates are 6½ games on top, not so much on their own efforts as the floundering of the Giants, Cubs and Reds.

Pirates Trip Giants.
However, they struck a blow in their own behalf yesterday when they knocked off the Giants, 7-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Jimmie Foxx and some robust clouting by Gus Suhr.

The crippled Giants have simply been begging for somebody to drag them back but to date neither the Cubs nor the Reds have accepted the invitation. The Giants look like good bait to wind up fourth.

The Cubs had a grand chance to move up yesterday but they blew it to the Reds, 8-1, when Jim Turner uncovered a five-hitter. The Reds have been playing the best ball in the league for weeks and may climb into the first division.

The Reds closed in on the Giants and Cubs by taking a pair from the Dodgers, 5-4 and 7-4, Derringer and Moore outpitching Frankhouse and Mungo.

Gil Brack's homer was the deciding factor in the Phils 4-3 verdict as the Cardinals in the first game they dropped the second in ten years, 8 to 7.

Yanks Win Again.
The Yanks showed some great hitting to go with their superlative pitching when Spud Chandler held the Tigers to five hits for a 3-1 decision. The Yanks won this one in principal Yankee fashion. After the game scored in the first the Yanks right back against George Gillis Crockett's homer, a single by Dickey, Double by DiMaggio and single by Dickey. The result was three runs and the ball game.

The Browns climbed out of the cellar by trouncing the Red Sox 9-5 while the Indians aided no side by beating two homers and one Campbell, trouncing the Athletics, 10-6.

Johnny Rigney held the Senators to six hits while the White Sox scored a 3-2 decision.

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 31.—Al Leach, the WPA worker who last week won the national public links golf championship, today lost his $73.50 a month job because the tourney necessitated his remaining away from work too long.

Formal announcement of his dismissal was issued by W. H. Cameron, WPA director here. Investigation established, Cameron said, that Leach had been absent from work as a timekeeper 16 out of 17 days up until last Saturday, when he won the tournament. WPA rules provide that any worker shall be dropped if he is absent more than five consecutive days.

Overnight Sports

Further indications that Don Budge will turn professional came when his coach, Tom Stow of Oakland, Calif., admitted he has come east because he figures the next couple of weeks will be "my first and last chance ever to see Don Budge in major amateur competition."

Eighty thousand expected to watch the Washington Redskins professional football team clash with the College All-Stars at Chicago tonight.

Ven Savage of Magna, Utah, shot a 134 to become low man among the 156 golfers who qualified on 31 fronts throughout the country for the national amateur golf tourney at Oakmont, Pa., Sept. 12-17. Defending champion Johnny Goodman is among 14 who qualified automatically.

Mrs. Jean Solomon of Memphis and Miss Dorothy Traugott of San Francisco flash brilliant golf and threaten defending champion Virginia Gullof of Syracuse, N. Y., in the annual Mason and Dixon golf championship.

Correct this sentence: "I like to play around with Martha," said the rich young bachelor, "because she has no idea of leading me to the altar."

New Public Links Champ

Al Leach, diminutive WPA worker of Cleveland, Ohio, is pictured kissing the cup emblematic of the 1938 National Public Links Golf championship, which he won in his home town by defeating Louis Cyr, railroad worker from Portland, Oregon. Cyr, six down at the 23d hole, squared it on the 34th green, only to lose to Leach on the last two holes.

Phyllis Stiefel Bitten By Snake

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 31.—Phyllis June Stiefel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Stiefel of Perry street, was badly frightened on Tuesday afternoon when she was bitten by a snake.

Phyllis June was visiting with her grandfather, Jonathan Jacobs of 2013 Sewickley street, when the incident occurred. The snake was in the Edwards yard and as the girl was going out the walk it wrapped about her leg and bit her twice.

Attracted to the scene by the girl's screams, her father succeeded in killing the snake, which was four feet in length and black in color with white markings.

The girl was immediately taken to a local doctor, who bled and cauterized the bites, and excepting the great shock is suffering no ill effects from the terrifying experience.

ITALY TAKES SERIOUS VIEW

(International News Service).
ROME, Aug. 31.—Italy takes an "extremely serious view" of the European situation, it was authoritatively stated today by an official spokesman who made clear this country's sympathies lie with the Sudeten Germans.

Unless the Czech government "shows some sense," it was stated, the peace of Europe is "at the mercy of an incident."

Fascists have one advantage. Hitler commands business men to use certain shrewd tactics in South America; over here, nobody but writers tell business men what they should do.

Stronger TodayModest Extension Of Tuesday's Recovery Is Shown
In Market Today

By LESLIE GOULD

International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A modest extension of the preceding day's recovery was effected by the stock market today, as hopes persisted a peaceful settlement would be found for the German-Czech crisis.

The market was generally strong at the opening, reflecting improved tendencies in security markets abroad. Gains ran to more than a point in leading industrials, but scattered selling developed late in the first hour and checked the rise.

Several issues slipped below last night's closings, principally in the rails and utilities, but the industrial section maintained a relatively firm tone.

Trading was extremely dull, as in yesterday's recovery efforts. Sales for the first hour amounted to only 120,000 shares, or a full-day rate of roughly a half-million shares.

Steels, coppers, motors, electrical equipments, chemicals and amusements all were in fair demand during early transactions. Utilities and aviation were depressed.

Nickel Plate preferred tumbled more than 3 points before meeting support, while the common lost close to 2 points. Most others in the group eased fractionally in sympathy.

Advancing a point or more were Union Carbide, U. S. Gypsum, International Harvester, Westinghouse Electric, Leach's Eastman, Kodak and American Smelting. Owens-Illinois Glass spurred 3 points at one time.

General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Anaconda and General Electric registered more moderate gains. Commodities sagged. The bond market was quiet and steady.

Nazi Show for an Admiral

It wasn't for an ordinary admiral that Fuehrer Hitler put on this great parade of Germany's sea power at Kiel, Germany. The distinguished visitor—an admiral without a navy—was Admiral Nicholas Horthy, regent of Hungary, whose visit to Germany has substantiated the reports of a strong Germany-Hungary alliance.

Has Souvenir Of Firemen's State Convention Here

Program Owned By R. T.
Withers Contains Interesting Firemen's Data

In connection with the recent firemen's convention here, it is interesting to note that R. T. Withers has a copy of a souvenir program, issued in 1900, when the state convention of firemen was held in New Castle. The late James H. Brown was then chief of the New Castle fire department.

The book contains a history of the local department which had its inception in 1836. In 1848 the first fire engine was brought to New Castle. It was a hand operated affair. It was not until 1873 that the city purchased a steam fire engine. The steamer was used until 1882, when the present water system was installed.

At the time of the convention here the fire department consisted of nine fire companies, eleven full paid men, and 200 volunteers. The entire cost of maintaining the department at that time was $11,000 a year.

The souvenir contains pictures of a number of New Castle's leading citizens at that time, also pictures of fire houses, churches, scenes from Cascade Park, tin mills, the old Shenango Valley hospital and other buildings.

Have You Read?

"This One Mad Act," the unknown story of John Wilkes Booth and his family, by his granddaughter, Izola Forrester, is the story of the man who shot Lincoln. It is an attempt by his granddaughter to "take from his desperate young hands the weapon of tragedy and show him as he was imaged in the love of his wife and family—those who suffered most from his mad tribute to liberty." It tells for the first time the intimate story of the lives of his dear ones, thrown upon the wings of fate by his one gesture of fanatic devotion to a lost cause.

You feel in reading this book as though you had come suddenly upon an intimacy that was not meant for your eyes—as though you were intruding, uninvited, into a family circle's strictest privacy. You are fascinated by the love and tragedy that bind these people irrevocably together. The story of this family, seen through the eyes of Wilkes Booth's granddaughter, becomes one of the real tragedies of the Civil War.

For years, in fact, ever since the episode at the Garrett Farm, there have been persistent rumors that Booth was not shot by a Union soldier, that he escaped, and lived for many years an exile both in his own country and abroad. Miss Forrester first heard confirmation of these rumors in her own childhood, from words unconsciously dropped by her grandmother, who was Booth's wife, from her own mother, who was Booth's daughter, and from her uncle, who was Booth's son. She received final confirmation from this uncle on his death-bed.

The years since that time have been spent in following up clues, substantiating facts in the case, running down rumors, which are legion. In consequence of her efforts her book becomes the first authentic document ever published which gives evidence regarding these "rumors" which merits the serious consideration of historians.

Market Employees Meet For Outing

Clyde Wilson Farm Near New Wilmington Is Scene Of Event Tuesday Night

Shortly after the store closed Tuesday night, the employees of Ake's Market motored to the Clyde Wilson farm near New Wilmington. Upon their arrival the men played a baseball game. The married men played the single men. At the end of the fifth inning the game was called because of darkness, with the score tied at 14 each.

Bert Taylor pitched for the married men and D. W. Axe was hurler for the single men but the heavy hitting retired him and Perry McCormick substituted. William Gurgacz was the catcher.

Following the ball game, the group enjoyed a corn roast. Games were played by the younger folks. Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Eppinger, a bride and groom of just a week, were accorded a surprise reception and taken for a ride in an old fashioned car.

Special guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wallace, and family; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Suber and family; and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wilson and family.

Those on the committee included: Mrs. D. W. Axe, Dorothy Moore, Doris Fix, Florence Dale and Mrs. Rupert.
